Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 9-11, 15 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lane, Jr. (4,082,208) (Lane) in view of Stewart, III (6,003,719) (Stewart).
3. Regarding claim 9, Lane discloses a container with a bottom element (11, Figures 1-4, column 2, lines 31-41), a cover element (18), intermediate elements (12, 13) with an open upper portion and an openwork bottom (43, Figures 2 and 4, column 3, lines 38-43) and means for connecting the elements and providing a seal (column 3, lines 3-36).

Lane does not teach a member controlling the flow of gas and vapor between an inside of the container and an outside of the container in the bottom element wall. Stewart discloses a container with a bottom element and a cover element and the bottom element has a member (24, 26, Figures 1-2, column 5, lines 65-67) capable of controlling the flow of gas and vapor between an inside and an outside of the container. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have incorporated the use of a member capable of controlling the flow of gas and vapor between an inside and an outside of the container as disclosed by Stewart in the container disclosed by Lane to provide a means for allowing flow of gas, vapor or liquid from the inside to the outside of the container without having to remove the lid or otherwise change the container orientation.

4. Regarding claim 10, Lane discloses a downwardly open groove formed in the lower circumference of the lid and in the upper circumference of the bottom and intermediate elements into which the lower circumference of the immediately adjacent elements can be inserted. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have located the groove in the lower circumference of the intermediate elements, since it has been held that a mere reversal of the essential working parts of a device involves only routine skill in the art. In re Einstein, 8 USPQ 167.

5. Regarding claim 11, Lane discloses the groove comprises a seal (column 3, lines 3-36).

6. Regarding claim 15, Lane discloses elements that are generally in the shape of a rectangular parallelepiped.

7. Regarding claim 16, Lane discloses the elements are made of a composite including plastic (column 2, lines 50-58)

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claims 12-14 and 17-19 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

9. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 9-11, 15 and 16 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

10. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

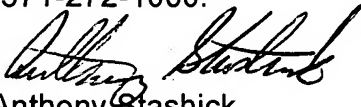

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
